ALABAMA.

PROBABLE LEGAL MISTAKE OF GOV. SMITH. Washington, Dec. 2.—Prominent Republicans from Alabama, now in this city, believe that Lindsay, the newly elected Democratic candidate for Governor, will succeed in the contest for the Gubernatorial chair of that State. They think that Gov. Smith ha taken an unwise course in the matter, and that he should have obtained a writ of quo scarranto against Lindsay, instead of an injunction probabiling the counting and declaration of the vote. The election could then have been regularly contested.

KINGS COUNTY. REPUBLICAN DISSENSION IN THE EIGHTH ASSEM-BLY DISTRICT-CARD FROM MR. BENNETT. To the Editor of The Tribung.

Siz: As your paper is the leading Republican organ in the State, permit me, having been a candi date, to offer a few remarks upon the late contest in the VIIIth Assembly District of Kings County.

In THE TERRUNE of the 24th inst. you animadvert upon stepublican dissensions in New-York City, whereby two Assembly districts were lost to the Republicans; but a more striking instance of political infidelity and folly was presented in my own city and district. In the first place, the Democrate, as proved by the returns, are capa-ble of carrying the Fifteenth, seventeenth, and Eightcenth Wards, which comprise the district, whenever they are aroused. Hoffman's majority being upward of 450. In the recent canvass, I was made, without solicitation, the Republican candidate; but to make that candidacy disastrous, Mr. David Williams, a professed Radical Republican, at the last moment, offered himself as an Independent and People's candidate, and by polling 769 votes defeated me by the tantalizing plurality of 155. Although Williams claims position as Horace Greeley, Henry Ward Beecher, and position as Horace Greeley. Henry Ward Beecher, and the Rev. Dr. Spear, I was disingenuously made to appear as desirous of excluding the Scriptures from those institutions, without receiving a quid pro quo from the opponents of the existing system of free schools.

David Williams was a director of the late Farmers' and and Citizens' Bank, borrowed heavily of its funds, and was charged by several of his fellow-Directors, not in his ring, with being the principal cause of its downfall, which is also the popular belief. He has since confessed to Mr. Beach, the late President of the Institution, that his main reason for running was to punish me—an unfortunate stockholder, be it remembered—for the course of The Fibnes with regard to that failure. "Think of that, Master Brook!" For nearly 24 years I have been a publisher and editor in Williamsburch and the Eastern District of Brooklyn, and have always favored the cause of freedom and the political equality of men without regard to color. How discouraging, that a candidate with such a record should be stricken down by small minied, envious men, professing the same principle as he, on issues foreign to the contest! What hope for the unity and success of the Republican party, when a large portion of its members are so destante of principle and so wantonly regardless of discipline!

In conclusion; by the returns as published the plurality electing my Democratic opponent is given at 28s, whereas the true number is 155-an entire return from a district in the Fifteenth Ward, which gave me an advantage of 133 votes, having been thrown out because a blundering cauvasser failed to deliver it at the proper quarter. Respectfully yours.

GEORGE C. BENNETT.

DELET OF POLITICAL DISCUSSION.

DRIFT OF POLITICAL DISCUSSION.

The Albany Evening Journal agrees with THE TRIBUNE in regard to the recently elected U. S. Senator from North Carolina, Gov. Vance, that if he is precluded under the Reconstruction acts and the XVth Amendment from taking his seat, the wisest thing Congress can ment from taking his seat, the wisest thing Congress can do is to pass, at an early day, an act removing the difficulty. It says: "It can hardly be judicious to millify the election by permanently excluding Senator Vance. Gov. Vance was an old Whig politician. He was a stendy opponent of the Disunionists. He resisted secession, as a Member of Congress. When North Carolina joined the movement, he followed her fortunes and served as Governor during the rebellion. But he has always been a moderate man, and after his election to the Senate on Monday, he made a speech distinguished by good temper and reasonable sentiments. Let anger, revenge, and retallation, he said, be ignored.' Is it wise to resist the admission of such a man upon a technicality?'

The Chemanon Telegraph says: "The 'Ring'

The Chenango Telegraph says: "The 'Ring' of Tammany politicians who can aid in the stealing of a rallroad property worth from $70,000,000 to $100,000,000 have audacity enough for the perpetration of any crime necessary to compass their ends. Their latest performance is to declare a man named carey elected to the Assembly from the VIIth District of the City of New-York. Mr. Twombly, the member elect, will of course contest the seat, and we trust the Republicans of the Assembly will see that the case is presented to the Legislature and the people in its true light, and the name of every member who violates his oath by yoting into the Assembly a man who was defeated held up to scorn. There is no other way to punish such bold villatny, and, however hardened the "Ring" may be, we hope and believe that there will be found some among the Democratic members who will refuse to ratify and indorse such deeds as will be required of them." have audacity enough for the perpetration of any

The Albany Evening Journal says of the counting out" of Mr. Twombly : "The excuse for the outrage is that an outsider took part in the canvass of one of the districts. It is not alleged that any wrong was done. The irregularity (if it existed) is simply seized was done. The irregularity (if it existed) is simply selzed upon as a pretense for what had been determined upon in advance. If it had not been this excase, it would have been some other, equally unreasonable and insufficient. The district was necessary to give the Democracy the Assembly, and it would have been secured at all hazards and at any cost. This outrage will afford another illustration of Democrate contempt for hav and the rights of the people. If the popular verdict, as expressed by the ballot, may be thus set aside with impurity, Republican institutions are a delusion, and our elections a farce. It is useless to vote if unprincipled convassers can thus negative the voice of the people. The very werst despoism is preferable to such a system of scoundrism, perjury, and fraud."

The Surracuse Journal says that the Tammany

The Syracuse Journal says that the Tammany Democracy is "the most complete political machine that as ever been contrived in this country, and, like every emplete machine, does its allotted work regardless of all exteriors. When a job is to be done, the machine goes about doing it, and, unless something breaks, the job is forthwith done. It matters not to the managers how others are affected by the schemes they propose and carry through; the managers are souliess and conscienceless, and seek their own ambitions and advantages without regard to consequences outside their own cotene.

The intention of the Tammany directors was to secure a hasjority of the Assembly, and their machinations aided uniferially to change the result in the Republican districts which elected Democratic representatives. But the reversal of 10 Republican districts of not quite bring the desired success. One district in the City of New-York was perverse in its Republicatism, and its electors chose a Republican, Mr. Twombly, to the Assembly. This choice had the effect to be the Assembly, and with that body equally divided politically the plans of the Tammanyites were likely to be thwarted. The machine was thereupon set in operation, and with the customary result. Mr. Twombly was elected by 17 votes, and it was so reported from the election boards of the district, until it was found necessary to further the purpose of Tammany that he should be counted out. Thereupon an excess was trumped up to throw out 19 votes for Mr. Twombly."

The Chicago Republican timins that "Free Trade and free guzzling are not so nearly related as the officers and managers of the New-York Free Trade as the officers and managers of the New-York Free Trade as the officers and managers of the New-York Free Trade as the officers and managers of the New-York Free Trade as Delmonico's every month to induge as the luxury of a costly dinner—costly to others, but not to themselves." The editor adds, "It is very certain, nevertheless, that those who are interested in these new political issues will not allow themselves to be embarrassed by their former party affiliations."

POLITICAL NOTES.

The Eleventh Ward Young Democracy Assoclation last night elected O. H. Holberg, President, and Patrick Leddy, Secretary.

The Hon. George O. Carpenter is the Repubican candidate for Mayor of Boston, and Charles O. Cha-in for Mayor of Springfield.

The Workingmen's Union last night pledged moral and financial support to the Crispins who prose to resist an apprehended reduction of their wages manufacturers who threaten to import Chinese."

The German Republican Central Committee of this city, last evening, Dr. Hartwig Gereke presiding, resolved not to alter their Constitution, but to reorganize next year, five delegates to be sent to the Central Committee from each Assembly District, except in the XXIst, where a club in Hariem and one in Yorkville are each to send three delegates.

Mr. J. G. Resengarten, a member of the Bar nd Secretary of the Philadelphia Branch of the Social ience Association, is named as a candidate for the manyivania State Senate from the 1st District, to fill e vacancy caused by the death of Mr. Watt.

The Hon. John F. Driggs, who was recently defeated by Judge J. G. Sutherland in the VIth Congress District of Michigan, writes to The Saginan Enterprise, claiming that under the State Constitution the Board of ciatining that under the Sinte Constitution the Board of Canvassers have no right to recognize the vote for his opposent, nor to give him the crifficate of election. Mr. Driggs, however, says that he himself did not receive a majority of votes, and does not chain to be elected, whatever the decision concerning Judge Satherland. He adds: "It is enough for me to know that I did not receive a majority of all the votes, and that Mr. Satherland did. If, therefore, he should be refused a certificate, and even a seat in Congress, and both should be conceded to me, under no circumstances would I consent to accept a position to which I was not elected by the people. In such a possible contingency I should layor a new election to fill the vacancy."

MARRIAGE AND DIVORCE.

MISS EDGARTON'S LECTURE. Miss Lillian J. Edgarton appeared last night, for the first time, with her new lecture on Marriage and Divorce, before a New-York audience. Steinway Hall was moderately filled by an unenthusiastic company, evidently curious to see what a young and rosy-checked evidently curious to see what a young and rosy-cheeked maiden could offer for their instruction on a subject so foreign to such experiences of life as she has yet enjoyed or suffered. Miss Edgarton was charmingly attired; and, as she appeared enattended and unintroduced upon the platform, her youth and beauty made a most favor-able impression. This neither the matter nor the manner of the lecture fully sustained. She lacks the oratorical magnetism which enables some judies in the lecture nagnetism which enables some ladies in the lecture field to fire and sway an audience with their own enthuslasm; and to a good many, it must be confessed, the address seemed dull. As for its substance—well, we do not generally look to the young ladies on the platform for that matter we did not always look to their masculine predecessors-for profound and original thought, or even for the results of careful study. Miss Edgarton said some striking things, and the tendency of all she said was pure and ennobling. No one will be injured by her appeals for a more sacred regard for the sanctity of marriage, and a more absolute recognition of its indissoluble character; and many, it is to be hoped, may be Miss Edgarton defined the emotions with which man hax regarded woman from the moment of her creation. Aside from pure selfishness, his first sensation was that of pity. Then came the feeling of chivalry—the romantic cta; then the sense of justice, which rules now. It behooves woman to see to it that this sentiment shall be fally de veloped. The air is filled with the moans of social hypochondrines. Marriage is in a transition state; it must either advance, to the beauty of justice and order, or be degraded to a rule of license. For herself, she didn't isk for political equality, but for domestic and social equality, with all its consequences and incidents. The ancient theory of marriage was that of inequality under ecclesiastical sanction. That theory continues practically in force, but man has divorced it from the ecclesiastical authority. She considered the true theory to be that of the perfect equality of man and wife. Of old, woman was the property of man—slavery in the most repulsive form was the very price of her existence. The polyandrous spirit as regards man's ownership of woman, the lecturer thought, still guided the marriage relations. She executed the lawyer "at a recent famous trial," who asserted that woman was made for man, "If this is the case," said Miss E., "she's not a purchase nor a concurset, but God's best and nobiest gift to man." [Applause.] Sine complimented Sorosis, which dared to shoot a protest at the head of this lawyer in its deanneintloss of the theory that woman is owned by man, When she heard this protest she riel that woman's hour had come. The idea of one husband and one wife devoted to each other is the idea defining the only Paradise possible on earth. Every woman must have one

The Boston Advertiser says of the Free-Trade dinner at Delmonico's: "The veterans left the field early in the evening, but the young men grew realous as the night went on, and declared doctrines which Bastiat never heard of, and which the individual sovereignty of woman is more sacred than any earthly the. BURNING OF AN OIL REFINERY.

TITUSVILLE, Penn., Dec. 2.—About 9 o'clock this evening a large fire broke out at Messrs. Chambers & Pickering's refinery. One large iron tank, three wooden tanks, stills, treating house, and a large pump were entirely destroyed. The tanks containing benzine and tar quickly ignited, bursting with a loud report, and the contents completely covering the creek. The fire communicated to two small benzine tanks, about three rods up the creek, awned by Messra Moreland & Co., but the employes connected with the establishment saved the refinery, etc. There was but a small amount of oil consumed.

ADDRESS TO THE POPE FROM AMERICAN CATH-

Archbishop McCloskey and the bishops of his diocese recently consulted together at Rochester, and resolved to frame an address of sympathy to the Pope, mbodying therein the sentiments of the Roman Cathics of the diocese, and introducing a strong protest of clergy and laity against the occupation of Rome by the King of Italy. The Archbishop, on his return to the city, immediately consulted with his council, the Very Rev. W. Starrs, D. D. V. G.; the Rev. W. Quinn; the Very Rev. John Bapst, S. J.; the Rev. Lanc T. Hecker; the Rev. Thos. S. Preston; the Rev. Maximus Leimgruber; the Rev. F. McNeirny, and the Rev. Annet Lafonte. Fathers Starrs, Quinn, Hecker, and Preston were the Committee who framed the address, and the following legal gentlemen have been requested to act as Committee of the Laity; Charles O'Conor, John E. Devella, John McKeon, T. James Glover, and Mr. Navarro. Tomorrow evening the address is to be read to the various hurches and signed by the clergy and a few prominent laymen. The address is appended.

PROPOSED REORGANIZATION OF THE ATLANTIC AND GREAT WESTERN RAILROAD.

The Cincinnati Enquirer publishes the specu-lations of a correspondent in this city, who asserts that the Atlantic and Great Western Eallroad is about to change hands and be thoroughly reorganized. The road has been for some time under the baleful influence of Erie, and Fisk and Gould have worked systematically the perfect equality of man and wife. Of old, woman | for the depreciation of the stock, so that when throws upon the market the road might come wholly into their hands. Now, however, trustworthy men are said to have

THE RELIGION OF ANCIENT EGYPT.

The Rev. Dr. J. P. Thompson delivered a lecture last evening, at the Tabernacle Church, on the reliably supported the theory that the progress of that religion was not from fetichism to polytheism and metaphysical abstractions in regard to the Divine mature, as held by Sir John Lubbock, Prof. Huxley, and others, but, on the contrary, a degeneracy from a grand primitive idea of God to the worship of cats and dogs. Pictures, images, and certain animals were originally made use of, es in the Roman Catholie Church, to symbolize certain abstract qualities, but the ignorant and superstitious gradually withdrew their worship from the Belog in which those qualities were supposed to exist, and transferred it to the pictures, images, and animals themselves. Even the Christianity of our day uses the lamb and the Even the Christianity of our day uses the lamb and the dove to typify gentleness, purity, and peace. The human mind often passes downward from the spiritual to the sensions, but seldom or never rises from the sensions to the applitual. The absence of the grosser objects of wor-ship from the more ancient of the Egyptian monuments and tombs was held to support the lecturer's theory. The grand conceptions of the Divine nature, the immor-latity of the soul, and judgment after death, which the Egyptians are known to have entertained, could not Egyptians are known to mave characteristics and the crocodile and the sprung from the blind worship of the crocodile and Callicot, former Collector of the Third Internal Revenue District, who was in June 1868, convicted of aiding and abetting whisky frauds igninst the Government of the United States, has received from the President a pardon remitting the $10,000 fine imposed in addition to two years' imprison ment in the Albany Penitentiary. The two years expired by limitation in May last, and the prisoner declared hi inability to pay the fine and his unwillingness to do so even if he were able, claiming that he was not guilty of The crime charged against him. Callicot was elected Speaker of the Assembly in 1863. In 1865 Andrew Johnson appointed him Collector of the Third (Brooklyn) Internal Kevenus District, and soon after he was convicted of comatring at whisky frauds which cheated the Government of a large amount of tax. He pleaded not guitty, and the trial excited great attention. Various appeals have been made, since the expiration of his term by limitation, for his release, and the President on Thursday night sent a pardon by special messenger from the State Department. the crime charged against him. THE KELLOGG CONCERT TROUPE IN BUFFALO. Since Miss Kellogg was last with us she has improved wonderfully. She sang the undying beautiful andante to the finale of "Somnambula" in a style that cannot be surpassed for depth of feeling, purity of tone, cannot be surpassed for depth of feeling, purity of tone, clearness of phrasing, and perfection of execution. In all her places she was recalled, and it seemed the audience would never tire of hearing her. Wehli, who made his entre in his modest way, is the most successful concert-player in America. We mean no disparagement to other artists. His power to please the andlence is founded on real excellence. No better technique or more powerful or delicate touch can be found anywhere. We cannot refrain from saying a few words on the splendid Grand Plano that was used. A large sign, with the cabulistic word "Weber" was displayed on the side of the instrument. We do not know Mr. Weber, nor did we ever hear a grand plano of his before; but this we know, we never heard a better one than this. It has a magnificent, powerful yet clear tone, and is exceedingly savet and strong in the treble. If Weber's pinass are all like this, he must be the "Coming Man" we have heard of.
